Romance Reading Month

#LoveMyLibraryWeek
1st - 7th February 2021

The Romantic Novelists' Association is once again declaring February as Romance Reading Month. The aim is to encourage more people to read romance and to celebrate the many sub genres of Romantic Fiction. These include Contemporary, Historical, Saga, Fantasy, Romantic Comedy and Romantic Suspense.

From the 1st - 7th we are celebrating #LoveMyLibraryWeek. Libraries are amazing for readers and authors too so please support them as soon as they re-open by borrowing as many books as you can. Did you fall in love in a library, or is there a librarian who has gone above and beyond for you? If so please share your library love stories by tweeting us at @RNAtweets or find us on Facebook at @Romantic.Novelists.Association and don't forget to tag your local library too.

If you are a romance writer and would like more details of joining the Romantic Novelists' Association then please visit our website www.romanticnovelistsassociation.org
